ENVIRONMENTAL EQUIPMENT AND FIELD SUPPLIES

Return Shipping Simplified.

We're proud to say it...we've done it again. FEI has set another new standard in the environmental rental equipment industry.

You have one less thing to worry about.

At the end of your project you have many important tasks to complete. The last thing you need to be concerned about is returning your equipment. But uncertainty in shipping methods and delivery locations can be a time-consuming and expensive logistics annoyance. FEI's Return Shipping Program simplifies the process saving you valuable time and money.

Make the decision when you place the order.

Work out the logistics of returning equipment with your customer service representative when you place the order. This gives FEI the ability to include return shipping documents when your order is fulfilled.

Return equipment easily.

FEI's program eliminates searching for labels, FEI office addresses, shipping account numbers and more details. Returning equipment only requires securely packing and sealing the box, applying the label and dropping it off at the nearest location of your preferred shipper.

One more reason to use FEI.

FEI's Return Shipping Program gives you one more reason to rely on us for your environmental equipment and safety supplies.
